

WILDERNESSFIRSTAID

"Wilderness First Aid is a comprehensive lesson in how to react, respond, and save life in remote, life-threatening situations."

Penn State University is offering two separate SOLO Wilderness First Aid courses this fall at Camp Blue Diamond. Each is a two-day, 18-hour class designed for trip leaders, counselors, and outdoor enthusiasts. No previous experience is required. Class are September 9 - 10, and November 4 - 5.

Cost is $300 which includes books, supplies, meals and overnight lodging. Camp Blue Diamond staff planning to work at CBD next summer receive a 50% discount on the course. SOLO is the premier provider of Wilderness First Aid internationally. To learn more about SOLO Wilderness First Aid visit soloschools.com/wilderness-first-aid-wfa.

This emergency response training includes patient assessment, musculoskeletal and soft tissue injuries, splinting, and a variety of other topics. The emphasis of Wilderness First Aid is to provide emergency response and primary and long term care in all weather situations with or without standard first aid equipment.

Lecture and discussion, practical exercise and outdoor scenarios help students gain confidence, and encourage the development of critical decision making skills.
